beating distinctly. He then commenced a series of contortions with his abdomen, rolling it over and over several times. At the conclusion of this striking exhibition, we placed our hand upon a lump in his left side below his waist. and there was the heart thumping away as if nothing unusual was the matter. A few more contortions, and the frisky organ passed across the abdomen, and on the right side kept up its work of throwing the blood through the system as regularly as if in its natural position. More contortions, and it traveled back home, its course being easily traced under the skin till it passed under the ribs. The man then commenced a sort of rotary motion of the bowels, apparently turning them over several times, when we felt a complete set of ribs covering the abdomen, the regular set being in their usua! place. Turning the bowels in the opposite di rection, the false ribs disappeared. On being asked if his mother had any more children like him, he replied that he had a brother over six feet high, who could reduce his stature to some-thing less than three feet. !!! Webelieve him readily, after having witnessed the above per-
